COMMISSIONER ABRAMS ANNOUNCES APPROVAL OF FUNDS FOR BOCA RATON CULTURAL CENTER

Palm Beach County Commissioner Steven Abrams today announced the reallocation $350,000 toward the construction of a black box theater at the Boca Raton Cultural Center (formerly the Cartoon Museum) located in Mizner Park.

“I know that the public has been waiting patiently to transform the old Cartoon Museum into a cultural facility and this will go a long way in making that a reality,” Abrams said.

The money was previously allocated for the purchase of television equipment for Channel 19, the City of Boca Raton’s governmental station, which is no longer available for broadcasting by the city.

The funds were part of the Recreation and Cultural Facilities Bond approved by the voters in 2002.
