Florida agriculture has a long tradition of being a stable provider of safe and reliable food products; quality jobs and economic activity; and sustainable green spaces for environmental and conservation efforts.

Join us for a one-day summit and expo focusing on the business of modern agriculture and its role in advancing our food security, quality of life and economy.

We are pleased to welcome a variety of industry leaders, including the Honorable Adam H. Putnam, Florida's Commissioner of Agriculture and Consumer Services; and Cory Reed, John Deere's Senior Vice President of Intelligent Solutions.

Expert panels will delve into diverse topics from the Evolution of Farming, Food Supply and Distribution, the Blue Revolution, Ag Tech and more.

The expo floor will be filled with key stakeholders in the agriculture community, giving all attendees the opportunity to learn about agriculture one-on-one from those who know it best.
