02/04/2020	Mental Health School Pilot Review pilot proposal presented by Dreyfoos High School students to increase the availability of school psychologists in Palm Beach County schools. Initiate outreach to Senator Brandes and Education Commissioner Richard Corcoran and request a meeting to discuss a possible partnership with FAU, PB State and PBC School District and pilot program potential.	BCC - Regular	McKinlay	Miller	Nieman	Proposal was reviewed by Administration and Youth Services. Tammy Fields has engaged Dreyfoos student Asher Moss by email and telephone on multiple occasions. They discussed areas of the proposal needing further development such as distinctions in education requirements between school psychologists and clinical psychologists. Asher will be holding a telephone conference with Dr. Shayna Ginsburg of YSD¿s Education and Training program to get further information. They also discussed the need for coordination with the school district; Asher followed-up with School Board Member Erica Whitfield and will continue the conversation with her.	In Process
						Asher was also advised of ongoing efforts through Birth to 22 and BeWellPBC to create a curriculum on mental health in the schools. Eight Allied Health teachers had agreed to participate in the pilot program. The pilot had begun, and unfortunately was cut short as a result of school closure. Efforts will continue to create a curriculum for a mental health certification in high school. The process for development and approval of such a certification takes approximately 2 years.
						A video conference was held on 3/25th with students from several schools who are developing mental health clubs in high schools. Leadership Palm Beach County has chosen development of such schools as one of its 100 day challenges. Although the virus has impacted in person meetings, it was determined that momentum with the project should continue. Asher was invited to participate and extended the invitation to his fellow Dreyfoos students. Finally Asher was invited to participate in Future Leaders United for Change which will continue to meet monthly through video conferencing while schools are closed. He will be a tremendous asset.
