BOARD OF COUNTY COMMISSIONERS
AGENDA ITEM SUMMARY

Meeting Date: April 20, 2021 Consent Regular Ordinance Public Hearing

I. EXECUTIVE BRIEF

Motion and Title: Staff recommends motion to ratify: the Mayor's signature on the Letter of Support to work collaboratively with Florida State University (FSU) and the College of Criminology and Criminal Justice on the project being submitted by FSU under the solicitation for Research and Evaluation of Services for Victims of Crime, Fiscal Year 2021 (O-NIJ-2021-40005).

Summary: The U.S. Department of Justice (DOJ) Office of Justice Programs (OJP), National Institute of Justice (NIJ), in collaboration with the Office of Victims of Crime (OVC), is seeking applications for a rigorous program evaluation of specific services for victims of crime. The Palm Beach County Division of Victim Services (DVS) and the FSU College of Criminology and Criminal Justice have successfully partnered with Drs. Turanovic, Pesta and Blomberg on prior research funded by OVC. The proposed project will evaluate the comprehensive services provided by DVS for all crime types, victims and survivors. Ultimately, the evaluation will lead to the identification of model victim service protocols, which can be replicated and evaluated in other jurisdictions. NIJ expects to make multiple awards with an estimated total amount awarded of up to $4 million. The emergency signature process was utilized because there was not sufficient time to submit the letter through the regular agenda item process to meet the March 2, 2021 deadline. Countywide (JW)

Background and Justification: The NIJ is interested in evaluations of different types of victim services including, but not limited to, programs embedded in hospitals/trauma centers; umbrella/network organizations; one-stop victim services programs; and/or programs embedded in criminal justice agencies (CFDA 16.560). Completing the formative evaluation and evaluability assessment should not exceed a 24-month performance period. This application, if funded, would allow FSU to evaluate existing services provided by the DVS in order to enhance the existing services, ensure we are using an evidence-based approach to best respond to the needs of our various clients, provide assessments of cost effectiveness and identify impacts on victim advocates. In 2019, FSU applied for this grant (NIJ-2019-15443), however their funding request was denied. The County provided a letter of support signed by Mayor Mack Bernard whose signature was ratified on July 2, 2019 (R2019-0976).

RE: Research and Evaluation of Services for Victims of Crime (O-NIJ-2021-40005)

To Whom It May Concern,

Palm Beach County Victim Services (PBCVS) is pleased to provide this letter of support and commitment to work collaboratively with Florida State University (FSU), College of Criminology and Criminal Justice, on the project being submitted under the solicitation for Research and Evaluation of Services for Victims of Crime, Fiscal Year 2021.

Palm Beach County and the FSU College of Criminology and Criminal Justice have over 20 years of history collaborating on several research projects, ranging all the way from evaluations of youth violence reduction initiatives, to domestic violence homicide prevention, and family drug court. In addition, PBCVS has successfully partnered with FSU and Dr. Turanovic on prior research funded by the Department of Justice (Office for Victims of Crime) to implement and evaluate a victim services program for DUI homicide survivors. Accordingly, PBCVS currently has a strong research partnership with FSU.

We are fully supportive of the proposed project that will provide a rigorous assessment of the comprehensive services provided by PBCVS for all crime types, victims, and survivors. Through this evaluation, PBCVS will be able to enhance its services, better reach underserved populations, improve the wellbeing of victim advocates, and adopt evidence-based practices.

Upon award of the grant, PBCVS will support FSU's effort by:

- Providing victim services administrative data regarding victim demographics, type of victimization, and services provided
- Facilitating access to conduct interviews and surveys of crime victims and survivors
- Facilitating access to conduct focus groups and interviews with victim advocates

PBCVS will also have a representative available for research meetings and phone calls with FSU investigators.

PBCVS acknowledges that de-identified data provided through this project will be archived by FSU in the National Archive of Criminal Justice Data at the conclusion of the award.

We welcome this opportunity to work with FSU on this important effort.

Sincerely,

Dave Kerner
Mayor, Palm Beach County

AN EVALUATION OF PALM BEACH COUNTY VICTIM SERVICES

Florida State University proposal to the National Institute of Justice
Research and Evaluation of Services for Victims of Crime (O-NIJ-2021-40005)
March 2021

Project Overview

The purpose of the proposed study is to provide a rigorous evaluation of the comprehensive, county-wide victim services model in place in Palm Beach County, Florida. The unique, comprehensive model offered by Palm Beach County Victim Services (PBCVS) includes a range of therapeutic and advocacy services. In evaluating the PBCVS model, we will collect both qualitative and quantitative data to provide a process evaluation and an impact evaluation. Overall, this evaluation will allow us to identify a set of best practices for victim services, and improve evidence-based service delivery.

The process evaluation will provide a detailed description of:

- how victims and survivors learn about and access victim services;
- how victim services are being implemented and delivered;
- who the services are reaching; and
- the organization's capacity to provide support and therapy to crime victims.

The impact evaluation will assess the effectiveness of PBCVS in producing change and assess its impact on victims and service staff (i.e., victim advocates and therapists). The impact evaluation will also identify:

- areas for improvement in victim services;
- why some victims decline to receive services; and
- the types of programs and services that are most beneficial for victims and survivors of specific crimes (e.g., intimate partner violence victims, sexual assault victims, homicide survivors, and victims of other violent crimes).

Data Sources

For this project, Florida State University (FSU) will request administrative case management data on all victims served by PBCVS since 2017. Should the project require extensive data preparation, FSU will retain a PBCVS-approved contractor to assist with creating the files.

Researchers will also collect information from victims and survivors using electronic surveys and in-depth interviews. Data will be collected with victims and survivors who did and did not receive services from PBCVS. Victim assessments will be taken at two time points throughout the project period to assess changes in post-traumatic stress, service needs, and coping skills following participation in various victim services. Focus groups will be conducted with service staff to understand their perspectives on providing victim services, as well as the impacts of service provision on their wellbeing.

Deliverables

Key deliverables will include presentations to PBCVS, the Palm Beach County Criminal Justice Commission, and academic audiences; and a final report summarizing the results of the evaluation along with key policy recommendations. All deliverables will be shared with PBCVS and the National Institute of Justice.

To advance Executive Order 13929 Safe Policing for Safe Communities, the Attorney General determined that all state, local, and university or college law enforcement agencies must be certified by an approved independent credentialing body or have started the certification process to be eligible for FY 2021 DOJ discretionary grant funding. To become certified, the law enforcement agency must meet two mandatory conditions: (1) the agency's use of force policies adhere to all applicable federal, state, and local laws; and (2) the agency's use of force policies prohibit chokeholds except in situations where use of deadly force is allowed by law. The certification requirement also applies to law enforcement agencies receiving DOJ discretionary grant funding through a subaward. Program Description

Overview

In collaboration with the Office of Victims of Crime, NIJ is seeking applications in three main areas under this solicitation: 1) research and evaluation of State crime victim compensation programs; 2) research on the impact of COVID-19 on the delivery of services to victims of crime; and 3) evaluation of programs that provide services for victims of crime. Applicants should submit proposals that address one of the three topics.

Applications proposing research involving partnerships with criminal justice or other agencies, should include a strong letter of support, signed by an appropriate decision-making authority from each proposed, partnering agency. A letter of support should include the partnering agency's acknowledgement that de-identified data derived from, provided to, or obtained through this project will be archived by the grant recipient with the National Archive of Criminal Justice Data (NACJD) at the conclusion of the award. Applicants and their potential partners are encouraged to review the NACJD's policies and protections at (NACJD). If selected for award, grantees will be expected to have a formal agreement in place with partnering agencies by January 1, 2022. That formal agreement must include a provision to meet the data archiving requirements of the award.

In the case of partnerships that will involve the use of federal award funds by multiple partnering agencies to carry out the proposed project, only one entity/partnering agency may be the applicant (as is the case with any application submitted in response to this solicitation); any others must be proposed as subrecipients.

Statutory Authority

Any awards under this solicitation would be made under statutory authority provided by a full-year appropriations act for FY 2021. As of the writing of this solicitation, the Department of Justice is operating under a short-term "Continuing Resolution;" no full-year appropriation for the Department has been enacted for FY 2021.

Specific Information

NIJ is seeking applications in three main areas under this solicitation: 1) research and evaluation of State crime victim compensation programs; 2) research on the impact of COVID-19 on the delivery of services to victims of crime; and 3) evaluation of programs that provide services for victims of crime. Applicants should submit proposals that address one of the three topics.

Randomized controlled trial (RCT) studies are a powerful, much-needed tool for building scientific evidence about what works. Therefore, NIJ will give studies employing RCT methods to assess the effectiveness of programs and practices higher priority consideration. RCT applications with strong designs measuring outcomes of self-evident policy importance are strongly encouraged. A strong RCT design should include measures to ensure low sample attrition, sufficient sample size, close adherence to random assignment, valid outcome measures, and statistical analyses. Applicants may want to consider studies using privacy-protected administrative data collected by others, or implement an intervention into a program already funded, as this approach may lower overall study costs.

For applications proposing outcome or impact evaluations, NIJ will only fund projects that evaluate well-developed programs. Applications should include, and append, supplementary materials as necessary to describe the level of program development. Supplemental materials may include copies or links to logic models, program guides and materials, policies and procedures, manuals, prior evaluation findings, program staffing, and funding information.

Note: Funding under this solicitation may only be used to cover costs associated with the evaluation, but may include reasonable costs incurred by program personnel to support activities directly and exclusively required for the execution of the evaluation (e.g., manual extraction of administrative records).

Research and Evaluation of Crime Victim Compensation Programs

In collaboration with OVC, NIJ seeks proposals for research and evaluation projects examining the effectiveness of State crime victim compensation programs. The body of existing research on victim compensation is largely dated. New research is needed to provide guidance to both practitioners and most especially to policy makers. Questions of interest include but are not limited to program utilization and comprehensiveness (to include compensation for new and emerging crime types) and potential barriers to the same, such as, the impact of the program funding model. Cross-jurisdictional comparisons are encouraged to help identify best practices.

Evaluation of Programs that Provide Services for Victims of Crime

NIJ seeks proposals for evaluations of programs that deliver services to victims of crime. NIJ is interested in evaluations of different types of victim service programming including, but not limited to, programs embedded in hospitals/trauma centers, umbrella/network organizations, one-stop victim services programs, and/or programs embedded in criminal justice agencies. Applicants are expected to use rigorous research methods in evaluating service delivery programs with preference given to those that employ, or are clearly progressing towards employing experimental research designs. NIJ is seeking both applications for formative evaluations with evaluability assessments and outcome/impact evaluations as described below.

1. NIJ recognizes that many victim service programs may not be ready to support rigorous outcome evaluations; as such, a phased approach may be appropriate. Applicants should plan to conduct a formative evaluation, as well as an evaluability assessment to determine whether an outcome evaluation of the program or model is possible.

Under a phased approach, an applicant may initially propose a range of formative and/or process evaluation activities such as:

- Descriptive research of victim service program(s) leading to the development of a logic model(s).
- Evaluability and research capacity assessments of programs to be studied, including but not limited to access to data and samples, consent procedures, and agency burdens.
- Development of an implementation guide for specific program(s).
- Development of instruments or measures to test the fidelity of program(s).
- Description of the process used to design and implement the program.
- Description of program operations, including any changes in the program.
- Identification and description of intervening events that may have affected implementation and outcomes.
- Structured observations, questionnaires, semi-structured interviews, focus groups, and logs.

Award recipients, if successful, may be encouraged or invited to submit a subsequent application for funding of further evaluation research to build upon its findings from earlier phases. Subsequent phases may include outcome and impact evaluations of specified program(s) or model(s). Future evaluation opportunities out of the phased approach may also include support for replication studies of programs or models. The specifics of the additional phases will be dependent on the findings of the formative evaluation and evaluability assessment, as well as other factors, including, but not limited to, the availability of appropriations.

2. Previous NIJ grant recipients who received funding in FY 2018 or FY 2019 to conduct phased evaluative projects may submit applications for the next phase of their evaluations. Applications should state clearly how they will build upon findings from the initial project and how the proposed project will accomplish — or make significant strides towards accomplishing — a rigorous outcome evaluation of the victim service program.

3. In cases where programs have achieved a suitable level of development, NIJ encourages applicants to propose rigorous outcome or impact evaluations, using randomized evaluation designs where it is possible and appropriate to do so. If that is not possible or appropriate, applicants should propose the most rigorous and appropriate design to produce high-quality causal evidence and provide justification for not proposing a more rigorous design.

Research on the Impact of COVID-19 on the Delivery of Services to Victims of Crime

NIJ seeks proposals for research projects to examine the delivery of services to victims of crime before, during, and after the outbreak of the COVID-19 pandemic. The purpose of this research is to examine why, where, when, and in what ways services to crime victims were influenced by the major societal changes related to the COVID-19 pandemic and measures taken to prevent the spread of the disease (e.g., social distancing, business and school closures, legislative mandates). Studies funded under this priority will build knowledge about the forces that influence access to and delivery of crime victim services, practical and ethical considerations about remote service delivery, as well as potential innovative practices that may have applicability after the COVID-19 pandemic. Applicants are encouraged to propose studies that take into account numerous relevant local factors and examine similar types of services for crime victims in multiple localities for comparative purposes.

Goals, Objectives, Deliverables, and Timeline

The goals of the victims of crime program of research are to improve knowledge and practice related to crime victims and crime victim services, and to fill critical research gaps.

Objectives

This solicitation has three objectives:

1. Developing knowledge concerning the effectiveness of State crime victim compensation programs.
2. Developing knowledge concerning the effectiveness of programs that deliver services to victims of crime.
3. Developing knowledge concerning the ways in which services to crime victims were influenced by the major societal changes related to the COVID-19 pandemic and measures taken to prevent the spread of the disease.

Deliverables

Final Research Report. Any recipient of an award under this solicitation will be expected to submit a final research report. Additional information on the final research report requirement for the solicitation is posted on NIJ's webpage.

Required Data Sets and Associated Files and Documentation. Any recipient of an award under this solicitation will be expected to submit to the National Archive of Criminal Justice

Data (NACJD) all data sets that result in whole or in part from the work funded by the award, along with associated files and any documentation necessary for future efforts by others to reproduce the project's findings and/or to extend the scientific value of the data set through secondary analysis.

In addition to these deliverables (and the required reports and data on performance measures), NIJ expects scholarly products to result from each award under this solicitation, taking the form of one or more published, peer-reviewed, scientific journal articles, and/or (if appropriate) law review journal articles, book chapter(s) or book(s) in the academic press, technological prototypes, patented inventions, or similar scientific products. NIJ expects that there will be an equal effort to make the research findings accessible to practitioner and policymaker audiences.

The Goals, Objectives, and Deliverables are directly related to the performance measures that demonstrate the results of the work completed, as discussed under Application and Submission Information.

OJP Policy Priority Areas

In FY 2021 and in addition to executing any program specific prioritization that may be applicable, OJP will give priority consideration to applications as follows:

- Applications that address specific challenges that rural communities face.
- Applications that demonstrate that the individuals who are intended to benefit from the requested grant reside in high-poverty areas or persistent-poverty counties.
- Applications that offer enhancements to public safety in economically distressed communities (Qualified Opportunity Zones).

To receive priority consideration under the rural priority, applicants must describe what makes the geographic service area rural (using U.S. Census or other appropriate government data; for assistance, applicants may wish to refer to <https://www.census.gov/programs-surveys/geography/guidance/geo-areas/urban-rural.html>), how isolated the area is from needed services, and how they will address specific challenges in rural communities.

To receive priority consideration under the poverty priority, the applicant must provide information to demonstrate that the individuals who are intended to benefit from the requested grant reside in high-poverty areas or persistent poverty counties. For purposes of this priority consideration, the term "high-poverty area" means any census tract with a poverty rate of at least 20 percent as measured by the 2013–2017 5-year data series available from the American Community Survey of the Census Bureau (applicants may search by census tract at <https://www.census.gov/acs/www/data/data-tables-and-tools/narrative-profiles/2017/>) and the term "persistent poverty counties" means any county that has had 20 percent or more of its population living in poverty over the past 30 years, as measured by the 1990 and 2000 decennial censuses and the most recent Small Area Income and Poverty Estimates (applicants may search by county at <https://www.census.gov/data/tables/time-series/dec/census-poverty.html> and at <https://www.census.gov/programs-surveys/saipe.html>).

To receive priority consideration under the Qualified Opportunity Zones priority, applicants must include information that specifies how the project will enhance public safety in the specified QOZs. For resources on QOZs, and for a current list of designated QOZs, see the U.S. Department of the Treasury's resource webpage, accessible at <https://www.cdfifund.gov/pages/opportunity-zones.aspx>.

OJP policy priority consideration will consist of receiving additional points in the application scoring process. Receipt of priority consideration does not guarantee that an application will be funded; nor will the failure to receive priority consideration necessarily mean that an application will not be funded.

Award recipients and subrecipients (including recipients or subrecipients that are pass-through entities) must, as described in the Part 200 Uniform Requirements as set out at 2 C.F.R. 200.303, comply with standards for financial and program management. The "Part 200 Uniform Requirements” means the DOJ regulation at 2 C.F.R. Part 2800, which adopts (with certain modifications) the provisions of 2 C.F.R. Part 200. See OJP Grant Application Resource Guide for additional information.

Budget Information

If the applicant is proposing a project that reasonably could be conducted in discrete phases, with each phase resulting in completion of one or more significant, defined milestones, then NIJ strongly recommends that the applicant structure the application — specifically including the narrative, expected scholarly products, timelines/milestones, and budget detail worksheet and budget narrative — to clearly define each phase. (This is particularly the case if the applicant proposes a project that will exceed — in cost or the length of the period of performance — the amount or length of time anticipated for an individual award (or awards) under this solicitation.) Given limitations on the availability to NIJ of funds for awards for research, development, and evaluation, this information will assist NIJ in considering whether partial funding of applications would be productive. (If, in FY 2021, NIJ elects to fund only certain phases of a proposed project, the expected scholarly products from the partial-funding award may, in some cases, vary from those described above.)

NIJ may elect to fund applications submitted under this FY 2021 solicitation in future fiscal years, dependent on, among other considerations, the merit of the applications and on the availability of appropriations.

What will not be funded:

- Applications primarily to purchase equipment, materials, or supplies. (A budget may include these items if they are necessary to conduct research, development, demonstration, evaluation, or analysis.)
- Applications that are not responsive to the purposes of this specific solicitation.

Cost Sharing or Matching Requirement

See “Cofunding” paragraph under item 5 (“Budget and Associated Documentation”) under “Content of Application Submission” in Application and Submission Information.

Eligibility Information

For eligibility information, see the title page.

For information on cost sharing or match requirements, see "Content of Application Submission" in Application and Submission Information.

- Program Narrative.
- Budget Worksheet and Budget Narrative (Web-based form).
- Curriculum Vitae/Resumes for Key Personnel. (Curriculum Vitae for key personnel (For purposes of this solicitation, "key personnel" means the principal investigator, and any and all co-principal investigators.)

See the "Application Elements and Formatting Instructions" section of the OJP Grant Application Resource Guide for information on what happens to an application that does not contain all the specified elements or that is nonresponsive to the scope of the solicitation.

Information to Complete the Application for Federal Assistance (SF-424)

The SF-424 will be submitted in Grants.gov. The SF-424 is a required standard form used as a cover sheet for submission of pre-applications, applications, and related information. See the OJP Grant Application Resource Guide for additional information on completing the SF-424.

Standard Applicant Information (JustGrants 424 and General Agency Information)

The Standard Applicant Information section of the JustGrants application is pre-populated with the SF-424 data submitted in Grants.gov. Applicants will need to review the Standard Applicant Information in JustGrants and make edits as needed. Within this section, applicants will need to: add zip codes for areas affected by the project; confirm their Authorized Representative; and verify the organization's legal name and address.

Proposal Abstract

A proposal abstract (no more than 400 words) summarizing the proposed project including primary activities, products and deliverables, the service area, and who will benefit from the proposed project, will be completed in the JustGrants Web-based form.

Proposal Narrative

The program narrative should be submitted as an attachment in JustGrants. The attached document should be double-spaced, using a standard 12-point Times New Roman font; have no less than 1-inch margins; and should not exceed 30 pages. Pages should be numbered and submitted as an attachment. If the program narrative fails to comply with these length-related restrictions, NIJ may negatively consider such noncompliance in peer review and in final award decisions.

The following sections must be included as part of the program narrative^[1]:

a. Title Page (not counted against the program narrative page limit)

The title page should include:

- Project title.
- Submission date.
- Funding opportunity number.
- Principal Investigator (and any co-principal investigators).
- Unique author identifier (e.g., ORCID, ResearcherID, Scopus Author ID), if available.
- Requests for consideration under "new investigator" and/or "priority areas of research" areas.
- Key words, including science focus areas.
- Contact information (that is, name, address, telephone number, and e-mail address) for both the applicant and the principal investigator.

b. Resubmit Response (if applicable) (not counted against the program narrative page limit.)

If an applicant is resubmitting an application presented previously to NIJ, but not funded, the applicant should indicate this. A statement should be provided, no more than two pages, addressing: (1) the title, submission date, and NIJ-assigned application number of the previous application, and (2) a brief summary of revisions to the application, including responses to previous feedback received from NIJ.

c. Table of Contents and Figures (not counted against the program narrative page limit)

d. Main Body

1. Statement of the Problem.

The statement of the problem should address the need for research in this area. Applicants should discuss current gaps in data, research, and knowledge, including those for particular justice sectors, for certain populations, and to answer questions relevant to current policy and practice needs and public interests. It is not uncommon for multiple problems to exist simultaneously (for example, there may be a criminal justice problem affecting public safety, a current technical challenge/need identified by forensic practitioners, as well as a scientific/technology gap between the current state of the art and a desired solution) and applicants should discuss each of these clearly and justify the importance of the separate issues. As part of this discussion, applicants should present a review of previous literature and discuss previous research related to these problems.

2. Project Design and Implementation.

Applicants should provide a detailed description of the strategies to implement this research project and address the research questions. Design elements should follow directly from the research project's goals and objectives and address the program-specific information noted in the solicitation. Applicants should describe the research methodology and analysis plan in detail and demonstrate the validity and usefulness of the data they will collect. Applicants should consider the rigor and soundness of the methodology and analytical and technical approaches for the proposed research and address the feasibility of the proposed project and potential challenges or problems in carrying out the activities.

3. Potential Impact.

Applicants should describe the potential impact of the research and how it may inform or improve criminal or juvenile justice-related policy, practice, or theory in the United States. This should include a discussion of the applicant's proposed dissemination plan to produce scholarly products and to make information available to broader interested audiences, such as criminal justice practitioners or policymakers.

4. Capabilities and Competencies.

This section should describe the experience and capability of the applicant organization, key staff, and any proposed subgrantees (including consultants) that the applicant will use to implement and manage this effort and the federal funds under this award, highlighting any previous experience implementing projects of similar scope, design, and magnitude. Applicants should address:

- Experience and capacity to work with the proposed data sources in the conduct of similar research efforts.
- Experience and capacity to design and implement rigorous research and data analysis projects.
- Experience producing and disseminating meaningful deliverables.

Applicants should also outline the management plan and organization that connects to the goals and objectives of the project.

5. Appendices (not counted against the program narrative page limit) include:

- If the application (including the budget) identifies any proposed non-competitive agreements that are or may be considered procurement "contracts" (rather than subawards), for purposes of federal grants administrative requirements, the applicant also must list the entities with which the applicant proposes to contract.
- List of other agencies, organizations, or funding sources to which this application has been submitted (if applicable).

Note: applicants are not required to submit performance data with the application. Rather, performance measures information is included as an alert that successful applicants will be required to submit performance data as part of the reporting requirements under an award.

OJP will require each successful applicant to submit regular performance data that demonstrate the results of the work carried out under the award. The performance data directly relate to the goals, objectives, and deliverables identified under "Goals, Objectives, and Deliverables" on page 8.

A list of performance measure questions for this program can be found on page 23.

Applicants can also visit OJP's performance measurement page at www.ojp.gov/performance for an overview of performance measurement activities at OJP.

Award recipients will be required to submit performance measure data in quarterly financial reports, semi-annual progress reports, and the Final Research Report. Further guidance on the post-award submission process will be provided, if selected for award.

Goals, Objectives, Deliverables, and Timeline

Applicants will submit the "project's goals, objectives, deliverables, and timelines in the JustGrants Web-based form. See the OJP Grant Application Resource Guide for additional information.

Budget and Associated Documentation

Are you going to require the applicant to submit the web-based budget detailed form?

Yes

Budget Worksheet and Budget Narrative (Web-based Form)

Applicants will complete the JustGrants web-based budget form. See the OJP Grant Application Resource Guide for additional information.

The following paragraph (on "Cofunding") expressly modifies the "Cost Sharing or Matching Requirement" provisions in the OJP Grant Application Resource Guide. The applicant is to follow the guidance in the following paragraph instead of the guidance stated under the "Cost Sharing or Matching Requirement" heading in the OJP Grant Application Resource Guide.

Cofunding: An award made by NIH under this solicitation may account for up to 100 percent of the total cost of the project. The application should indicate whether it is feasible for the applicant to contribute cash, facilities, or services as non-federal support for the project. The application should identify generally any such contributions that the applicant expects to make and the proposed budget should indicate in detail which items, if any, will be supported with non-federal contributions.

For additional match information, see the "Cost Sharing or Match Requirement" section under Federal Award Information.

If a successful application proposes a voluntary match amount, and OJP approves the budget, the total match amount incorporated into the approved budget becomes mandatory and subject to audit.

Indirect Cost Rate Agreement (if applicable)

Applicants will submit their indirect cost rate agreement by uploading the agreement as an attachment in JustGrants. See the OJP Grant Application Resource Guide for additional information.

Applications should include as an appendix a brief plan — labeled “Data Archiving Plan” — to comply with data archiving requirements. The plan should provide brief details about proposed data management and archiving, including submission to NIJ (through NACJD) of all files and documentation necessary to allow for future efforts by others to reproduce the project’s findings and/or to extend the scientific value of the data set through secondary analysis. Pertinent files and documentation include, among other things, qualitative and quantitative data produced, instrumentation and data collection forms, codebook(s), any specialized programming code necessary to reproduce all constructed measures and the original data analysis, description of necessary de-identification procedures, and (when required) a copy of the privacy certificate and informed consent protocols.

Other important considerations for NIJ include geographic diversity, strategic priorities (specifically including, but not limited to, those mentioned above relating to addressing specific challenges that rural communities face; high-poverty areas or persistent-poverty counties; demonstrable potential enhancement to public safety in one or more federally designated Qualified Opportunity Zones); available funding; past performance; and the extent to which the Budget Worksheet and Budget Narrative (Web-based form) accurately explain project costs that are reasonable, necessary, and otherwise allowable under federal law and applicable federal cost principles.

Review Process

Applications submitted under this solicitation that meet basic minimum requirements, will be evaluated for technical merit by a peer review panel(s) in accordance with OJP peer review policy and procedures using the stated review criteria above.

OJP screens applications to ensure they meet the basic minimum requirements prior to conducting peer review. Although specific requirements may vary, the following are common requirements applicable to all solicitations for funding under OJP programs:

- The application must be submitted by an eligible type of applicant.
- The application must request funding within programmatic funding constraints (if applicable).
- The application must be responsive to the scope of the solicitation.
- The application must include all items necessary to meet the basic minimum requirements.
- The application, if submitted by an applicant that is a DOJ High Risk Grantee, or is designated "high risk" by a federal grant-making agency outside of DOJ, must not have been determined by the NIJ Director to pose a substantial risk of program implementation failure, based on 1) the applicant's lack of sufficient progress in addressing required corrective actions necessary for removal of the DOJ High Risk Grantee (or non-DOJ high risk) designation, 2) the nature and severity of the issues leading to or accompanying the DOJ High Risk Grantee (or non-DOJ high risk) designation, and/or 3) the applicant's expected ability to manage grant funds and achieve grant goals and objectives.

Pursuant to the Part 200 Uniform Requirements, before award decisions are made, OJP also reviews information related to the degree of risk posed by the applicant. Among other things to help assess whether an applicant that has one or more prior federal awards has a satisfactory record with respect to performance, integrity, and business ethics, OJP checks whether the applicant is listed in SAM as excluded from receiving a federal award.

In addition, if OJP anticipates that an award will exceed $250,000 in federal funds, OJP also must review and consider any information about the applicant that appears in the non-public segment of the integrity and performance system accessible through SAM (currently, the Federal Awardee Performance and Integrity Information System, FAPIIS).

Important note on FAPIIS: An applicant, may review and comment on any information about itself that currently appears in FAPIIS and was entered by a federal awarding agency. OJP will consider any such comments by the applicant, in addition to the other information in FAPIIS, in its assessment of the risk posed by the applicant.

All final award decisions will be made by Director of the National Institute of Justice, who may take into account not only peer review ratings and NIJ recommendations, but also other factors as indicated in this section.
