Description:

A library is a collection of materials available to educate and inform audiences with the goal of advancing society as a whole (Chicago ALA, 2010). In this presentation, professionals who provide services to youth and families will build their library of hands-on activities that can support the achievement of identified therapeutic goals. Attendees can grow their family therapy activity library during this interactive presentation, providing professionals with additional tools to facilitate clinician and client success!

Learning Objectives:

After completion of this presentation, participants will be able to name the following:

- 1) Discuss common therapy goals addressed in family treatment.
- 2) Explore activities that facilitate accomplishment of identified goals in the therapy setting.
- 3) Access & share resources to build your family therapy activity library.

Presenter:

Brittany Grimshaw Houghtlin, MS, earned her bachelor's degree in Psychology at Texas A&M University and her master's degree from Nova Southeastern University (NSU). She is on track to graduate with her doctoral degree in Clinical Psychology from NSU in June 2024. Her training experiences have included working with several community-based agencies to serve children and their families in Miami, Broward, and Palm Beach Counties.

Ms. Houghtlin is currently a doctoral intern with the Palm Beach County Youth Services Department, where she provides therapy services, psychological evaluations, and outreach training for youth and their families within the county. In addition, she is working toward certification in Parent-Child Interaction Therapy (PCIT).

Ms. Houghtlin is passionate about presenting current psychological research to promote community collaboration, advocacy, and empowerment. Ms. Houghtlin has facilitated training throughout South Florida for teachers, parents, and youth on various trauma-informed mental health topics.
